EMPTY STOCKING FUND TO CHEER POOR AND NEEDY AT CHRISTMAS

Recent cold weather has brought to light many cases of suffering. Helpless women and children and men aged and infirm who have been barely able to exist during the fair weather have been forced to apply for help to the public charities. It is for such people as this that the money from the Empty Stocking Fund will be used.

An old man, insufficiently clad and sick, was a recent applicant for necessities. He had only recently moved into Middlesboro and has no means of support during his illness. A woman with several small children, rendered helpless by the incarceration of the husband and father in jail for alleged offenses against the state, furnish another example of real suffering.

The number of cases where the Christmas funds may be used to good advantage is too large for detailed mention. Present indications are that real winter weather will continue and there are a number of families where there is insufficient bedding, clothing and fuel.

The object of the Empty Stocking Fund which the Daily News is promoting in conjunction with Miss Wilhelmine Marx, public health nurse, is to provide every indigent family and person in Middlesboro with something for Christmas—a good dinner, warm clothing or other necessary items. This can only be done by a liberal support of the public. Contributions will be received either at this office or by Miss Marx and mention of same will be made through these columns.

If you want to play Santa Claus to some poor child or helpless person, send in your contribution at once.

CHRISTMAS CAROL SERVICE THURSDAY

Pupils of Third to Eighth Grades to Take Part in Program at Auditorium

A Christmas Carol service in which several hundred city school pupils will take part will be given at the Central school auditorium at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The service, which is an annual event of the schools, will be unusually good this year, the children having been practicing for some time on exercises. In addition to the acts in which a large number of children will take part, there will be several special numbers. Pupils of the third to the eighth grades inclusive will take part in the exercises.

This will be the biggest event of the holiday season in the way of appropriate musical programs and the school patrons and general public should encourage the service by attending. Arrangements will be made to accomodate a large number of visitors.

YOUTHFUL BANDITS FOILED IN ATTEMPT TO STEAL CAR

Youthful would-be auto bandits abandoned an Oakland car belonging to Lee's garage on North Twentieth street Thursday night. Either because something was wrong with the car or the boys did not know how to run it, they were not able to go any further with it. Police were notified of the occurance and restored it to its owner.

Pupils of the city schools will bring food which will be made into baskets for distribution among poor people of Middlesboro, according to an announcement made by Supt. J. W. Brashear this morning.

Miss Wilhelmine Marx, public health nurse, will be in charge of this work. Money from the Empty Stocking Fund will supplement the supplies brought by the children.

The Christmas basket distribution is an annual event of the local schools, a large number of families being supplied with Christmas foods from this source each year.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE COUNSEL TELLS OF BATTLE FACING DRYS

By Wayne Wheeler
General Counsel Anti-Saloon League of America

Washington, Dec. 17—The Anti-Saloon League will continue on the job every minute to safeguard and strengthen prohibition and its enforcement. We will fight to the finish every so called light wine and beer amendment or any scheme to raise the alcoholic content of beverages under the eighteenth amendment. As long as more than two-thirds of the states maintain the one-half of one per cent standard on their own initiative, it is unsound policy and unwise politically to attempt to legalize what the states prohibit. Should a majority of the states ever adopt a one or two per cent standard for beer, then only should Congress give the brewers' schemes serious consideration.

We shall oppose any reorganization of the prohibition unit which will decentralize its activities. Further centralization would mean more efficiency and any further decentralization would mean demoralization for law enforcement.

Politics

We shall not only fight the attacks of the opposition to the law but will endeavor to strengthen law enforcement lines. Federal prohibition agents ought to be put under Civil Service. As long as they are political appointees, the wettest states will continue to have the most inefficient agents, and the work of those who are appointed will be crippled constantly.

Aliens who come to the United States and refuse to become citizens and violate the constitution, should be deported to the countries from which they came. Legislation will be urged to this end.

Seized liquor, now stored in warehouses at large cost, and where it is in constant danger of being stolen, lost or consumed, should be put into government warehouses or on government property. This will make for economy and efficiency.

Seizures

Seized automobiles and other rum-running vehicles which have no claimants and which are now stored at large cost to the government, should be utilized by the Enforcement Department. The government pays from 10 to 15 cents per mile for agents' automobile hire. Legislation should authorize the use by the department of vehicles of this kind.

The league will back any treaty provision that will aid law enforcement and smite the rum-smugglers who are the offspring of pirates.

The dry forces accept the challenges of the wets, "Enforce or modify," and will urge a relentless battle for maintaining, strengthening and enforcing prohibition. Every election since the eighteenth amendment was substituted has demonstrated anew that the overwhelming majority of the people are for national prohibition and its enforcement, wet organizations and wet majorities to the contrary notwithstanding.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR CHILDREN NEXT MONDAY

All Boys and Girls in Town Under Ten Invited to Manring— Picture Program and Christmas Gifts

TO BE GIVEN CHILDREN BY LOCAL RIWANIANS

A Christmas entertainment for all children in the city under ten years of age will be given at the Manring Theatre next Monday afternoon at a time to be announced later. Supt. J. W. Brashear will assist in determining what children are eligible to come. Children under school age who can come without their parents are invited to come but no parents will be admitted.

There will, of course, be no charge for this entertainment, as it is being given to the children of the city by the Kiwanis Club. There will be up to date program consisting of a Christmas picture and children's comics. At the end of the show two Santa Clauses one at each entrance, will appear, and pass out Christmas packages to each child.

P. M. Parsons is chairman of the committee in charge of this entertainment.

COMMUNITY CHEST DIRECTORS MEET

Change Made in Salvation Army Management—Complete Report of Six Months Made

Discussion of the Salvation Army and it suse of funds from the Community Chest took up most of the time at the meeting of directors of the organization this morning. The opinion of Major E. S. Hellmuns, chairman, and a number of the directors, was that not enough relief work has been accomplished for the amount of money raised the Salvation Army from the Chest.

A change whereby all bills for relief supplies will be paid at the end of each month by the Community Chest secretary was voted, this complying with a request from the Salvation Army.

William Wallbrecht, secretary, made a complete report of the collections and disbursements of the Community Chest. Approximately $1,000 of the subscriptions are considered delinquent, doubtful or uncollectable.

The work of the Salvation Army in raising money by the street kettle for Christmas for poor families was commended as was also the Daily News Empty Stocking Fund. These causes, it was pointed out, are contributed to mainly by those not subscribers to the Community Chest funds.

A motion was passed to not allow beneficiary organizations to raise funds by public subscription to cover work included in that for which the Chest bears the expense.

Those present at the meeting were: Major Hellburn, William Wallbrecht, W. S. Anderson, G. H. Talbott, Arthur Rhorer, Mrs. D. G. Hinks, A. P. Liebig, Capt. F. F. Stelnhour, P. L. Lee, R. K. Judy, W. B. Shultz, J. W. Brashner, R. L. Kincaid, and Mr. Roberts, a district officer of the Salvation Army.

THREE LOUISVILLE CARS COLLIDE

One Man Loses Foot, Fractures Skull —Four Others Are Also Injured

Associated Press

Louisville, Dec. 17.—Three interurban cars came together on the approach to the Big Four railroad bridge here today. Richard Robinson, of Jeffersonville, Ind., suffered the loss of a foot and possibly a fractured skull and four other persons were less seriously injured, while scores of other passengers were shaken by the impact. The forward car stopped and the two others following crashed into each other.

The wreck occurred 68 feet above the ground. The forward car, which was en route from the Indiana side of the Ohio river, stopped to allow the conductor to collect fares. A moment later the following car crashed into it from the rear. The impact made it sway from side to side while more than a hundred terrified passengers momentarily believed they would be dashed to death from the trestle. Finally it settled on the ties. About this time the third car, also from Indiana, rammed the second car on the vestibule, on which 20 men were standing. It was on this car that Robinson was injured with the most of the others. sisted passengers to places of safety. Firemen rushed to the scene and as while ambulances rushed the injured to hospitals. The collisions were due to a heavy fog.

BELL CO. DOCTORS ELECT OFFICERS

Banquet and Program Given Friday Night Here at Last Meeting of Year.

The Bell County Medical Society held its monthly meeting Friday night at the Hotel Cumberland where the members of the Society and their wives were dinner guests of the retiring President, Dr. J. R. Tinsley and wife. Dr. H. C. Chance of Cumberland Gap was the chief speaker of the evening. His address on "My Fellow Practitioner" was both humorous and instructive. Round table talks were made by other members discussing the work of the Society for the past year. A report from the Kentucky State Medical Association which met at Crab Orchard recently showed that Bell County and the other seven counties comprising the Eleventh Congressional District had a membership of one hundred per cent, this being the only district in the state to have such a record.

The meeting Friday night being the last one for the year, officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Dr. Mason Combs of Pineville; Vice President, Dr. J. H. S. Morison of Cumberland Gap; Secretary and Treasurer, Dr. J. G. Foley of Pineville; Member of Board of Censors, Dr. P. G. Brummett of Middlesboro. Members of the Society present were: Dr. J. H. Herndon of Straight Creek, Dr. J. G. Foley, Dr. O. P. Nuckols, Dr. C. C. Durham, Dr. Mason Combs, Dr. Edward Wilson, of Pineville Dr. H. C. Chance, Dr. J. H. S. Morison, of Cumberland Gap, Dr. J. C. Carr of Bryson, Dr. J. W. Fitzpatrick of Bosworth, Dr. T. T. Gibson Dr. Jacob Schultz, Dr. C. G. Brummet, Dr. C. K. Brosheer, Dr. J. T. Evans, Dr. L. L. Robertson, Dr. J. P. Edmonds, and Dr. J. R. Tinsley of Middlesboro.

REV. H. PICKETT AGAIN ACCUSED OF SELLING LIQUOR

H. Pickett, colored preacher, has been caught in the meshes of the law again, a marked dollar bill, a "little boy" and some "white mule" in a fruit jar being contributing factors to his present state of involuntary confinement.

W. B. Saylor, federal prohibition officer, marked the bill and sent a person in to Prickett's establishment to buy a drink. Mr. Saylor and police officers then made a raid and were just in time to save the contents of the fruit jar as the owner attempted to pour it into the sink.

Pickett will have an examining trial in the police court and held to circuit court if the evidence warrants such action. He will also be taken to Pineville where preliminary examination will take place before Judge J. C. Rollins, federal commissioner.

MOON SELDOM SHINES IN SELDOM SEEN

MRS JULIA M. FIFE

Seldom Seen, Pa., Dec., 17.—Bootleggers were often seen in Seldom Seen in days gone by.

But now, thanks to a militant woman constable, they are seldom seen in Seldom Seen.

Woe be to them, when they are! For Mrs. Julia M. Fife, who enforces the law and preserves the peace in North St. Clair township, will see to it that they won't be seen again in Seldom Seen.

Mrs. Fife, be it known, has put the moonshine dispensers, gamblers and others a ffheir ffk on the run. Since taking office, she has rid the town of every undesirable element.

Today all 27 of Seldom Seen's citizens are the most peaceable and law-abidding folks one could hope to meet anywhere in this dig old U. S. A.

Mrs. Fife did all without firing a single shot. She refuses to carry a pistol. Verbal shots are the only one she uses in her war to keep the lid on Seldom Seen.

Despite her Carrie Nation crusade, Mrs. Fife still has plenty of time to devote to her nine children.

Aha—oh, yes, we almost forgot—she looks after half a dozen dogs, besides.

CLEVELAND NO OASIS FOR G. O. P.

Strict Enforcement of Prohibition During Convention Promised by Officers.

By Associated Press

Columbus, Dec., 17.—State prohibition Director McDonald Saturday announced the prohibition laws would be strictly enforced during the Republican national convention in Cleveland June 10. He said the most efficient enforcement officers would be assigned to combat the large number of bootleggers who are attracted to Cleveland during large conventions.

WHITE COON CAUGHT IN WEST KENTUCKY

An Albino or white raccoon with pink eyes, was captured by a Ballard county man on a nocturnal hunt. Fearing that his find might be associated with "pink monkeys" and other imaginative "varmints", by the incredelous, the hunter had the animal examined and vouched for by a coterie of other reputable citizens.

A white "coon" is a very rare find and the capture of but few of the freaks is recorded. Ocasionally white crows and white blackbirds have been reported in Kentucky, but the Ballard county man is among the few that actually produced one of the freaks for inspection.

DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE VICTORY CLUBS FOR NEXT YEAR

Enthusiastic over their third victory in Kentucky in the past three elections, the Democrats of the State together with those Democrats of a number of other states, are already organizing Victory Clubs in several cities for the coming presidential campaign. Arthur Rhorer and Mrs. L. B. Ginn have been appointed by Hon. Cordell Hull, chairman of the National Committee, to lead the forces in Middlesboro. Initiation fee for the club is five dollars.

Local Merchants Urged Action Bringing Watkins Here Today—Smooth Road Now From Mountain Into Town

NO HEAVY CARS OR CHAINS ALLOWED ON NEW STREET

East Cumberland avenue has been opened to Sixteenth street and will remain that way, thus turning hundreds of people into Middlesboro for the remaining week of Christmas shopping.

This action was agreed upon at noon by J. S. Watkins, district engineer, and Herbert Ridl, of the Humbard Construction company. Traffic was immediately turned over the new work.

Mr. Watkins came here this morning in response to the urgent requests of business men, the construction company and the general public. He looked over the street with the construction company representatives and was not long in reaching the conclusion that the paving could be used. However, he did not criticise the construction company's action in closing the street until it could be adequately inspected by the state. The engineer is of the opinion that a careful use of the street will not result in any damages.

Only touring cars are allowed to go over the street. Heavy trucks and the horses and wagons are not permitted to pass over the new paving as this would certainly damage the surface. On certain blocks only one side of the street may be used, this being indicated by wooden barricades. The motorists are requested not to use places thus closed and to not use tire chains.

The news is very gratifying to the hundreds of Middlesboro people who want to use the street, to all the merchants whose business has been curtailed by the inaccessibility of Middlesboro to out of town patrons and to hundreds of country people whose Christmas shopping has been delayed by the closing of the street.

NEW TREASURY SAVINGS CERTIFICATES ARE HERE

Postmaster John M. Miller announces that an additional supply of the new 4¼ Treasury Savings Certificates of the $100 and $25 denominations has been received from Washington.

"Due to the unprecedented demand, our initial supply of these new certificates was quickly exhausted," stated Postmaster John M. Miller.

"The widespread demand for the new certificates is, of course, due to the fact that beginning December 1, the prices were reduced so that the owner now receives 4¼ compounded semi-annually, free of all state and local taxes and the normal Federal income tax."

The postmaster urges all prospective buyers of these new 4¼ certificates in the denominations of $100 and $25 to "shop" early in order to secure their certificates out of the stock while hthe Post Office no whas on hand. The $100 certificates sell for $80 cas hand $20 cash will purchase a $25 certificate.

A supply of the $1000 denomination certificates is expected within the next few days, according to Postmaster John M. Miller.

COLD WAVE STIMULATES COAL BUSINESS IN SECTION

The sudden cold wave throughout the south, finding many empty coal bins, has caused a temporary stimulation in the local coal mining business. The Log Mountain Coal Company reports that a number of orders have been received today on account of the change of weather.

The business of the Log Mountain company comes partly from Tennessee, the Carolinas and other southern states and these were affected by the present cold wave. It is not enough, of course, to materially affect the general market but a continuance of the present low temperature cannot but have some affect on the local coal business.

RIGHT SORT OF ATHLETICS

The state of Oklahoma, contrary to a prevalent impression, is distinguished for other things than politics and Ku Klux Klan activity Athletics for example

Imagine a high school with eight regular football teams, 1 basketball squads, 1 track teams and six baseball teams, not to mention various regular teams in boxing, wrestling, tennis, swimming, volleyball and other games It is the Tulsa high school

Imagine also 245 players participating in interclass football games in one school This is also the Tulsa high school as shown by the record of the season just ended

There are more than 1,500 boys on athletic teams, whereas there used to be less than 100

Here is athletics that is athletics Every pupil capable of physical exertion is not only given exercise but given team competition

Compare this with the usual system in which a few play, while the rest look on Compare it with professional baseball, the great delusion in American sport, which gives athletic emotions to 499 enthusiasts out of 500 without any physical effort or benefit

HOW CROWDED THE YEARS ARE

What very crowded years these are! The world is being made over and we in the United States look on and wonder whether it is going to be a good job We also wonder how long it will take to hand it in

New clashes come up every day Besides the relations between France and Germany and England, which have invited observation for so many months, there are now relations between Greece, Italy and France which call for our attention and a mix-up in Spain which at least is worth notice though less agitating than the others The continental countries for the moment see into be turning to dictatorships They have reached a point where their people think they need a strong man or where the strong man thinks they need him

It is very interesting and even here at home we have matters to think about which are worth attention a great deal of crime, violence, robbery and dishonesty But very quickly, if we are not ourselves robbed or murdered we get to take all that as a part of the day's work and skip the details in the papers, or read them as we read fiction The fall elections may be interesting, and our presidential politics in the coming year undoubtedly will be lively enough to hold our attention We do not know yet quite what we have got in prohibition but we wait in comparative tranquility to find out We are not excited about that, not very much excited about anything domestic, not even about taxes, though taxes nudge us regularly and never permit themselves to be forgotten—From Editorial in December Harper's

For Raising Avenue

Editor Daily News:

I would like to make a suggestion to the city officials whereby the Avenue may be built under the railroad bridge so that pedestrians and all but very high vehicles may pass when the water is high, and still not be necessary to elevate the bridge floor

Raise the sidewalks on both sides two or three feet above the road bed as has been done on Dorchester near Twenty fourth street Then elevate one half the roadway three feet leaving the other half at the present level A high coping, like that on the Twentieth street cement bridge will prevent cars etc from tumbling off the lower side M G

What makes you think Earl is hold of the cablegrams

He came in the day I received it just as I was reading it Of course I was very nervous and I did not realize what I did with the cablegram until after I had left the room The I found in my hand and then I had only the address on the first line of the message I probably had been nervously tearing up the whole while we were talking Naturally I was but quite sure that he could read it

Do you know what we can do the rest of the time in the world

Yes I'll never forget the cablegram It and If you are not sure ask to my lawyers, Struble & Struble Van Cortlandt Street New York Make a confidant of the senior partner Have cabled him You will never know I would with the slightest grief at any cost to you

Sounds like a melodrama doesn't it

Leslie John got that cablegram That is the reason he doesn't want me to go to New York I didn't think it was possible that he could be so mean as to object just because of silly gossip He is not that kind Earl is the kind of a man who would snap his fingers at the public and tell them to go to But this is serious Earl will have remembered your quotation and he will wonder what Winthrop has cabled you, If you are in trouble and you know I would willingly save you from the slightest grief at any cost

Do you think he will ask Struble & Struble

I wonder my dear, if you realize how terribly compromising that is Deliver me always from the man who, strong in his own virtue, writes to the friend just what is in his own heart Any man on earth reading that cablegram would conclude that Karl loves you and that you may have confided some trouble to him I really do not blame Earl for being furious

No dear if he did Struble & Struble wouldn't tell him Lawyers don't do business that way The confidence of client is inviolate

To be dear, perhaps you will think I am horrid but you make me glad that I am not married any more Here with the best intentions in the world you have gotten yourself into a terrible mixup something that will probably keep you on the ragged edge for weeks to come

Something, Ruth I interrupted, which could be smoothed out in a few minutes if the old tradition about marriages were true If Earl and I were only now as we would be to go back with him and tell him all the things I have been telling you and I would understand He also could tell me the truth he knows about Jess But both Earl and I are both the cowards in the matter I am myself responsible for all this trouble to ourselves each in our own way We must be mad to separate to each other and keep mailing matters wise and separating ourselves farther and farther apart

Tomorrow Leslies secret letter continued—The isolation of marriage

TO SLEEP

A flock of sheep that leisurely pass by
One after one, the sound of rain, and bees
Murmuring; the fall of rivers, winds and seas
Smooth fields, white sheets of water and pure sky.

I've thought of all by turns and still I lie
Sleepless; and soon the small bird's melodies
Must hear, first utter'd from my orchard trees,
And the first cuckoo's melancholy cry.

Even thus last night, and two nights more I lay
And could not win thee, Sleep! by any stealth;
So do not let me wear tonight away.

Without thee what is all the morning's wealth?
Come, blest barrier between day and day,
Dear mother of fresh thoughts and joyous health!

—William Wordsworth

CITY MANAGER

Directing the affairs of a $10,000,000 corporation is a mighty big job. But William R. Hopkins, successful lawyer, engineer, realtor and railroad builder, is used to hard work. So he has no hesitancy in assuming his duties as Cleveland's first city manager on Jan. 7. Prominent representatives of the country over are watching with interest the Fifth City's experiment in this form of municipal government. It is the largest city yet to adopt it. Hopkins salary probably will be around $25,000 a year.

THE SPEEDER

A car around the corner. What do I care?
Since I'm in a hurry I'll step on the gas!
What I want the inside, what's he doing there?
He's big enough to worry if there's no room to pass.
I guess in this country I'll do as I please,
None of your d— laws get me on my knees!
Come on, let's go by all the high power—
And so the next day they said it with flowers.

* * *

Slow down at the crossing. Say what's on your mind?
I've twice blown my horn, and ain't that enough?
If that old grey head is deaf, dumb and blind
Why how's it my fault? Where do I get that stuff?
For I'm in a hurry I gotta go—
And it gets on my nerve when I shift in low.
Head drum a curse at a liquor like face,
So the old lady's head was crushed in the mire.

* * *

Let out for the traffic cop there in the street
Say, that ain't no player and I'd have you know—
If the eyes in your feet are slow on their feet
That's their hard luck for I gotta go.
You can't teach them nothing, the cops that you see,
And if they've had learning, it's nothing to me.
I've bit him I betcha I'll drive like wild
So he left behind him a torn little child.

—George Selwyn, Lexington, Ky.
